Refuges Need Friends Because...

The National Wildlife Refuge System (NWRS) is the ONLY system of Federal lands solely dedicated to the preservation of our wildlife heritage. However, the NWRS is burdened by public unawareness of its mission and needs. The System is understaffed and underfunded to the point where the future of the refuge system is threatened and refuges need help from local citizens, NOW!

Citizens provide refuges with critical support by volunteering, raising funds and educating the public. Many citizens have increased their effectiveness by banding together and forming Friends Groups. Friends groups play a critical role in helping the public understand the importance of protecting and preserving our refuges--in essence, they act as refuge "ambassadors".

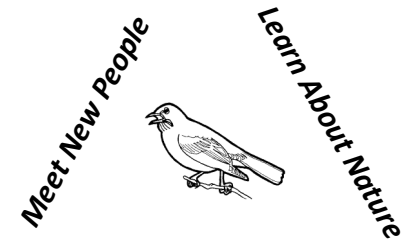

Friends groups have proven to be highly effective partners in working to improve the ability of refuges to meet their missions.

Membership dues enable the Friends to...

- Develop Second Saturday programs and lectures to educate the general public about wildlife conservation
- Sponsor "The Refuge Rocks", children's nature programs
- Host visiting groups and facilitate their educational activities
- Maintain our butterfly garden—a beautiful place that has attracted species new to Grayson County
- Participate in wildlife oriented recreation programs
- Facilitate bluebird populations by providing and monitoring nest boxes
- Provide interesting educational tram tours of the refuge via the "Carlos & Eulalia Cardinal Express"
- Produce "The Featherless Flyer" newsletter and other publications
- Provide educational nature walks
- Maintain FriendsOfHagerman.com website
